John and Chrys Evans, owners, are proud to be Lawnes Point's premier builders. With over 50 years of combined experience, John, Chrys, site superintendent, Dennis Jones and designer, Neil Wilson have always worked closely with our homeowners, financial institutions, realtors and developers. Let us work with you to help assure that the choices you make now will be right for you for years to come. Having built over the years in many of western Tidewater's premier neighborhoods we are ready for your project and look forward to helping you make your dreams a reality.

With pride in our both work and the relationships we have built along the way we have done it all, from the cozy to the palatial. Now, in Lawnes Point, we can help you take the worry out of building by being your team members every step of the way.
